【 Company Profile 】

Under the guidance of General Secretary Xi Jinping's policy of "building a healthy China", Xinhongyang Group has paid close attention to and focused on the research and development of health products since the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic.

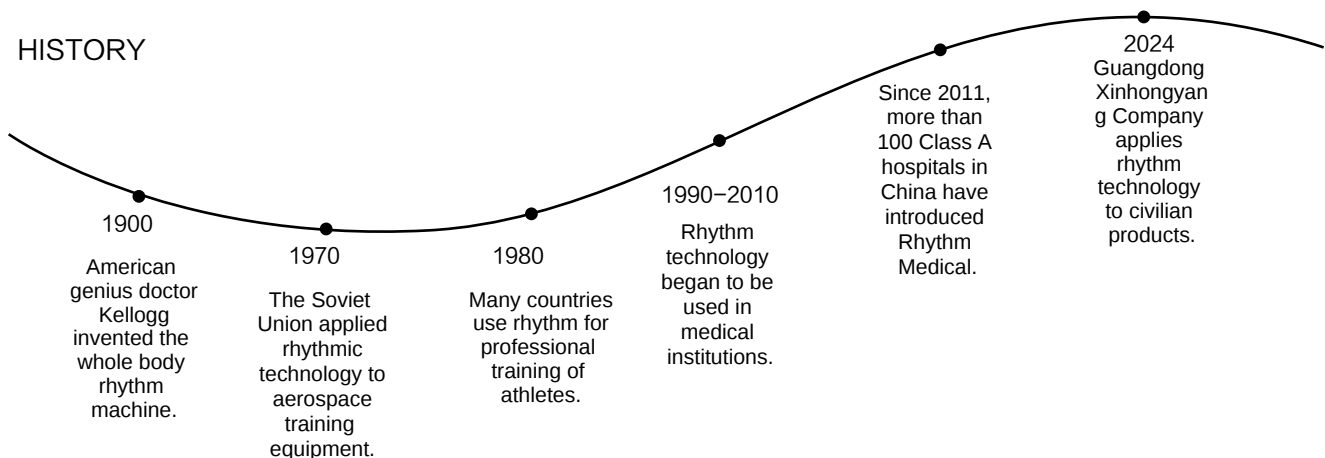

The Boweishen project was established under the background of the New Hongyang Group. It brought together many experts from home and abroad and, after years of dedicated research, it is a project company integrating R&D, production and sales and has many national patented technologies.

Bovisen cooperates with many research institutions at home and abroad to continuously study human sub-health issues and launches continuously upgraded scientific research results to improve human sub-health.

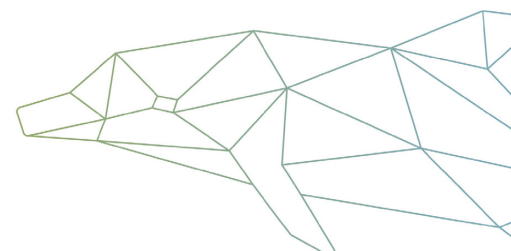

The sonic rhythm health products launched this time are a collection of theories of ergonomics, neuromedicine, hemodynamics, AI smart technology, human bionics, etc., and finally the sonic life science theory has been technically realized. Scientific research products such as "horizontal speed sleeping bed", "energy circulation sofa" and "muscle relaxation chair" have been developed and launched. Bovishen's sonic series products not only achieved industrial and technological breakthroughs, but also created a new blue ocean market for the industry's internal circulation, effectively improving product strength, technical strength and competitiveness.

Bovison launches a new blue ocean wealth feast, where you can exercise while lying down. Use it for 30 minutes a day and live 30 years longer. Choose Bovison and easily grasp the wealth creation opportunities in the next 10 years.

Three major rhythms

● Fat burning rhythm, slimming and fitness:

The fat burning rhythm acts on the human thoracic diaphragm, pushing the heart and lungs upward, massaging the stomach and intestines downward, pushing the heart and lungs to increase blood oxygen output, thereby reducing blood oxygen and repairing the gastrointestinal mucosal tissue of the human body. At the same time, the stomach and intestines are massaged to promote gastrointestinal digestion. At the same time, the bionic principles of skipping rope and running are used to shake the waist and abdominal fat externally to promote fat burning, so this is a double internal and external exercise.

● Maternal and fetal rhythm promotes sleep:

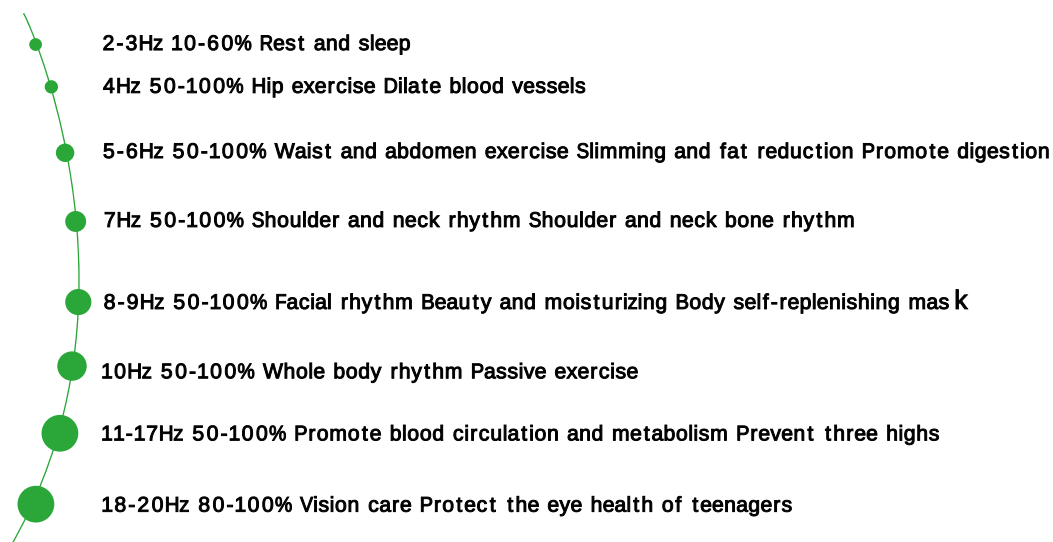

The maternal-fetal rhythm acts on the human body, thereby stimulating the vascular endothelium to produce nitric oxide synthase, acting on the hypothalamus (pituitary gland), inhibiting sympathetic nerve excitement, and promoting the brain's pineal gland to produce melatonin, thereby reducing mental stress, relieving fatigue, and making people fall asleep quickly; it produces a cradle effect of returning to the mother's womb, bringing people to sleep quickly;

● Heart rhythm, promote blood circulation metabolism:

The cardiac rhythm acts on the human heart waves, and after interaction, an enhanced beat frequency phenomenon is produced, which can speed up blood flow and stimulate vascular endothelial cells to produce nitric oxide.

Nitric oxide is medically known as the "blood vessel scavenger". It can relax and soften human blood vessels, thereby reducing blood flow resistance and discharging harmful substances on the blood vessel walls.

Nitric oxide is also known as the "firefighter of blood vessels". It can make vascular endothelial cells produce anti-thrombotic, anti-inflammatory and anti-atherosclerotic effects.

Application Scenario:

Home use: suitable for the whole family, young and old, enjoy the comfortable feeling of rhythm, rhythm together, and enjoy a healthy life intelligently. Commercial use: replace manual physiotherapy, save labor costs; improve customer experience and achieve experiential income;

Office area: reduce work pressure, relieve mental and physical fatigue, eliminate fatigue in 30 minutes, and rejuvenate the spirit;
